AYER'S CATHARTIC PILLS,

Are the most perfect purgative which we are able to produce, or which we think has ever yet been made by any body. Their effects have abundantly shown to the community how much they excel the ordinary medicines in use. They are safe and pleasant to take, but powerful to cure. Their penetrating properties stimulate the vital activities of the body, remove the obstructions of its organs, purify the blood, and expel disease. They purge out the foul humors which breed and grow distemper, stimulate sluggish or disordered organs into their natural action, and impart a healthy tone with strength to the whole system. Not only do they cure the every-day complaints of everybody, but also formidable and dangerous diseases. While they produce powerful effects, they are at the same time, in diminished doses, the safest and best physic that can be employed for children. Being sugar-coated, they are pleasant to take; and, being purely vegetable, are free from any risk of harm. Cures have been made which surpass belief, were they not substantiated by men of such exalted position and character, as to forbid the suspicion of untruth. Many eminent clergymen and physicians have lent their names to certify to the public the reliabilities of our remedies, while others have sent us the assurance of their conviction that our Preparations contribute immensely to the relief of our afflicted, suffering fellow men.

The Agent below named is pleased to furnish gratis our American Almanac, containing directions for the use, and certificates of their cures, of the following complaints:

Costiveness, Bilious Complaints, Rheumatism, Dropsy, Heartburn, Headache arising from foul stomach, Nausea, Indigestion, Morbid Inaction of the bowels and pain arising therefrom, Flatulency, Loss of Appetite, all Diseases which require an evacuant medicine. They also, by purifying the blood and stimulating the system, cure many complaints which it would not be supposed they could reach, such as Deafness, Partial Blindness, Neuralgia and Nervous Irritability, Derangements of the Liver and Kidneys, Gout and other kindred complaints arising from a low state of the body or obstruction of its functions.

Do not be put off by unprincipled dealers with other preparations which they make more profit on. Demand AYER'S and take no other. The sick want the best aid there is for them, and they should have it.

Prepared by Dr. J. C. AYER & Co., and sold by Williams & Haywood, P. F. Pescud, Raleigh, N. C., and Dealers generally.

E. F. Coe's Super-Phosphate of Lime,

OR

BONE MANURE.

WARRANTED GENUINE.

BEING MADE OF THE BEST MATERIAL AND in the most approved manner, it is recommended to the public as superior to any other in the market. All who have used it speak of it in the highest terms of praise, and those engaged in its manufacture will continue their best endeavors to advance the high reputation which it has acquired.

We guarantee the Phosphate to be well manufaced, and recommend it in preference to any other artificial manure in the market. We consider it nearly equal to the best Peruvian Guano, although furnished at half the price.

Messrs. B. H. Allen & Co., the well known manufacturers of agricultural implements, say of it:

"We take pleasure in stating that we have sold E. F. Coe's Super-Phosphate of Lime for four years.—It has given universal satisfaction to our customers. We most cheerfully endorse it as an article worthy of the confidence of the public, and the purchaser may rely upon securing an article honestly and carefully manufactured.

"We would state that, after careful examination, we believe this Phosphate has been improved each year since its introduction in this market, and that it will continue to maintain its present high standing. "Very respectfully,

"R. H. ALLEN & CO.,

"No. 191 Water street, New York."

E. FRANK COE, ESQ.,

Annexed please find result of my analysis of sample of your Super Phosphate of Lime left with me.

This being such a superior article in every respect, I cannot refrain from congratulating you upon such manufacture, which undoubtedly will meet with great success.

Wishing you every success, I am,

Respectfully yours,

G. A. LEIBIG.

PROSPECTUS

COSMOPOLITE.

ON THE FIRST OF JANUARY WE WILL commence the publication, in the City of Baltimore, of a monthly Literary Magazine.

There is no publication of this character now issued South of New York City, and the closing of the war has left a large portion of the people of the country with no literary representative.

The COSMOPOLITE will be devoted to

Literature, Art, Reviews, Scientific Papers and General Reading, and we shall number among its contributors some of the first literary men of the South, with others from the North and from London and Paris.

All matter not original will be carefully selected from the newest and best of the English, French and German publications; and its Editors will spare no effort or expense to make it rank with the VERY FIRST magazines of the country.

As its name imports, we have established the COSMOPOLITE upon no sectional basis. We hope to make it the organ of general literature alone; and will be uninfluenced by any party or clique whatever.

It will be mailed to subscribers in any part of the country upon receipt of the following

Subscription:

Single Copies, for one year,	$4 00
Five Copies for one year,	18 00
Ten copies for one year,	33 00

☞ The COSMOPOLITE will be generally distributed among the Merchants and Planters of the South, and we will add, for their information, a few advertisements, at moderate rates.

☞ Liberal deductions will be made to booksellers and newsdealers.

☞ Newspapers publishing this prospectus and sending a marked copy to the undersigned, will receive a copy of the magazine. Address

Common Schools.

No State interest is dearer to the people than the education of her children. In it is involved the future history and welfare of the State. No subject should have been more carefully and liberally considered than this, and we hoped that the General Assembly would have exerted itself to sustain them. The fact that the fund was inadequate to keep up actively the Common School system, and that the people were too poor to keep it in a flourishing condition, furnished no argument or justification for their abandonment; and we think when the people come to look seriously into the matter, those who voted for abolishing the office of Superintendent and the transfer of the Fund to the control and use of the common Treasury, can scarcely bear the displeasure and condemnation of the people, which will be aroused. We regret it deeply.

We regard the bill passed, as almost a total abandonment of the Common School system in the State—a result more ruinous than almost any thing which could have befallen us. It is also singularly unfortunate, that many of those who voted to relieve the University by appropriating $7,000 to its benefit, voted against most of the propositions which were made, which looked to the support of the Common School system and its vigorous prosecution at a future day. This is to be regretted. The one should have been done, and the other not left undone

The abolishing of the office of Superintendent, is a blow to the Common School interest, from which it cannot easily recover. Equally so is the proposition to leave the matter to the management of the counties, without an active Superintendent to keep the thing alive. We know there was force in the plea of poverty.—But inasmuch as the General Assembly voted help to the University, it ought by all means to have preserved the Common Schools from utter failure.

"The Fight."

Our neighbor's sympathies are very much aroused for its friend and follower, Rev. James Sinclair. If Mr. Sinclair were a minister in good standing in his church, we should have taken that as prima facie evidence that he merited our sympathy; had he been assailed by Mr. McKay, we should have defended him. But we learn, that he has been suspended by his Presbytery from the ministry for offences incompatible with his ministerial and christian character. Moreover, he was the assailant, and that is the reason why the Sentinel thought he deserved a whipping.

The Standard endorses Mr. Sinclair as a sound Union man. It does not know its man, and goes it blind. He is perhaps now a Holden man, and that is enough for our neighbor. But a gentleman who was a member of Mr. Sinclair's regiment in 1862, assures us, that he was one of the most rampant secessionists and war men at that time, he ever knew. That gentleman further says, that at that time he was a subscriber to the Standard and used to read it to his company, and that the then Col. Sinclair, was irritated with him on account of it, denounced the Standard bitterly, and declared that "Holden ought to be hung."

Now, those men who were at first such rampant war men, but now denounce every man as disloyal and seditious and traitors who do not go with them, like the Standard and Col. Sinclair, we call, so-called Union men.

On motion of Mr. Ferebee, the Senate adjourned until 6 o'clock Monday morning.

HOUSE OF COMMONS.

FRIDAY, 7½ o'clock, P. M.

A resolution in favor of Catherine Kendall was taken from the table and passed its second and third readings. Received messages from the Senate concurring in House amendments to a bill to establish a scale of depreciation of Confederate currency; and to soldiers; also a message receding from Senate amendment to a bill to prevent discontinuance of causes.

Mr. Dunn introduced a resolution in favor of the engrossing clerks. Laid on the table on motion of Mr. McAden. Received a message from the Senate transmitting a bill to abolish the offices of Superintendent of Public Schools, Treasurer of Literary Fund and for other purposes.

On motion of Mr. McAden, the rules were suspended, and the bill put on its second reading.

Mr. McAden urged the passage of the bill, as he deemed the office of Superintendent an unnecessary expense to the State. A salary of $1500 had been paid for years to the present incumbent for doing nothing; he had been of no use on God Almighty's earth and the State was unable to pay such a salary to a man who merely wrote long essays, and drew interminable bills.

Mr. Henry supported the bill for similar reasons.

Mr. Caldwell opposed the bill. The idea of keeping up the Common School system without a head was simply ridiculous. He had heartily concurred in the action of the Legislature to supply disabled soldiers with artificial limbs, but now those who had voted liberally for the outer man, were calling on us to neglect the inner man altogether, and to discontinue all our efforts to educate the children of the country. The present Superintendent of Common Schools had done the State good service. If his salary is too high reduce it, but do not abolish the office.

Mr. Blackmer said that gentlemen professing to be the friends of Common Schools were trying to throttle the system. These men, who during the war, professed great attachment to the Confederacy, refused food to its soldiers. It was the duty of every man to support the Common School system. As to the present Superintendent, whatever his faults, he was satisfied that he had made a good officer.

Mr. McNair said that the opposition to the Common Schools originated with the Finance Committee, who wished to divert the Literary Fund to other purposes. As to the Sepurintendent's salary, other officers, who did not do half the work, were paid equally high.

Mr. Thompson claimed that the Finance Committee had no opposition to the Common School system, or any intention to divert the School fund from its legitimate purposes. The bill proposed merely to abolish an office rendered unnecessary by the State's inability to carry on at present the Common School system as heretofore, and to give the Public Treasurer custody of the School Fund, requiring of him an additional bond.

Mr. Burton said that County Superintendents would cost at least $100 per annum—about $8,000 to the State yearly. Under the present system they receive but 2½ per cent. upon the amount expended for school purposes. If the salary of the Superintendent were too high, he would vote to decrease it, but he was opposed to abolishing the office.

The bill passed its second reading.

On third reading, Mr. Hutchison offered an amendment appropriating $50,000 to the Common Schools. Rejected.

The bill then passed its 3rd reading—yeas 62., nays 15.

A Senate bill to establish the rate of interest had its first reading.

Mr. Hutchison, from the joint select committee, to which was referred correspondence relative to certain cotton belonging to the State, submitted a report accompanied by the following resolution.

Resolved, (Senate concurring,) that the correspondence and papers in relation to the cotton belonging to the State be deposited with the Public Treasurer, and that he be, and he is hereby required to prosecute the investigation to the end that the interests of the State may be subserved. Adopted.

The Senate by message announced concurrence; and the House then adjourned until 10 o'clock to-morrow.

HOUSE OF COMMONS.

SATURDAY, March 10th, 1866.

The House met at ten o'clock A. M.

The Journal of yesterday was read and approved.

A message was received from the Senate, refusing to concur in the House amendment to the resolution making appropriation to the Lunatic Asylum. The House receded from its amendment.

At eleven o'clock A. M., the House proceeded to consider the special order, viz: "Resolutions in favor of a general amenesty."

Mr. Blythe moved to amend the 4th resolution of the series by inserting the following proviso:

"Provided that nothing herein contained shall be understood as applying to any of the leaders in the late rebellion."

Mr. Coates moved to amend by substituting the following resolution:

WHEREAS, during the late rebellion Union men were proscribed and held as disloyal, and regarded and treated as unworthy of any official position, civil or military.

Be it resolved, That no man known as an original secessionist or latter-day war man, should hold or enjoy any office, or place of trust, or profit, under the government of North Carolina and the President is hereby requested to declare all such offices vacant, so that they may be filled by true and loyal men.

Mr. Lyon moved an indefinite postponement of the whole subject. The yeas and nays were ordered on motion of Mr. Lyon, and the motion prevailed.

YEAS—Messrs. Allison, Ashworth, Beasley, Blackmer, Blair, Blythe, Bryson, Burton, Caldwell, Candler, Carson, Coates, Craige, Dalby, Davis of Carteret, Dickey, Faircloth of Green, Faircloth of Wayne, Ferrell, Garland, Gidney, Harrison, Henry, Hodnett, Holderby, Holmes, Horton, Jenkins of Gaston, Jenkins of Granville, Jones, Kinney, Lyon, McDonald, McGuire, Melson, Nicks, Newsum, Palmer, Potter, Rosebro, Russell, Smith of Guilford, Scoggin, Teague, Trull, Waugh, Webb, Yellowley—49.

A message was received from the Senate asking concurrence in a substitute for the House bill entitled "a bill to enable the Banks of the State to close their business." The House concurred.

Mr. Wilson introduced a resolution of thanks to Rev. C. H. Wiley, which was unanimously adopted. [Will be published hereafter.]

A bill for the relief of Sheriffs, passed second and third readings under a suspension of the rules.

A bill to establish a college for the education of Teachers and Ministers of the Gospel of the colored race, was put on second reading.

On motion of Mr. Jenkins of Warren, the yeas and nays were ordered.

The bill passed second reading as follows:

YEAS.—Messrs. Allison, Ashworth, Beasley, Blackmer, Blair, Blythe, Bryson, Burton, Caldwell, Candler, Carson, Craige, Davis of Carteret, Dickey, Faircloth of Green, Faircloth of Wayne, Furr, Garland, Harper, Hodnett, Holderby, Horton, Houston, Hutchison, Jenkins of Granville, Jones, Kinney, McDonald, McIntosh, Nicks, Newsum, Page, Palmer, Potter, Rosebro, Russell, Smith of Columbus, Smith of Guilford, Smith of Hertford, Wheeler, Wilson.—41.

Mr. Blackmer moved that the rules be suspended and the bill put on its third reading.

The yeas and nays were ordered on motion of Mr. Jenkins, of Warren.

The rules were suspended—yeas 50; nays 24; and the bill passed its third reading.

A bill to establish the rate of interest and repeal Chapter 114 Revised Code. Passed its 2nd reading.

The rules were suspended and the bill was put on third reading.

Mr. Jenkins, of Warren, advocated the bill.

Messrs. Smith, of Hertford, Caldwell, McDonald and Burton, approved its passage.

On motion of Mr. Burton, the yeas and nays were ordered.

The bill passed its third reading as follows:

Those who voted in the affirmative, are Messrs. Allison, Baxter, Beasley, Black, Blackmer, Blythe, Bryson, Cameron, Candler, Carson, Chadwick, Cox, Davis of Carteret, Dickey, Dunn, Faircloth of Greene, Faircloth of Wayne, Foster, Garland, Gidney Harrison, Hutchison, Hyman, Jenkins of Gaston, Jenkins of Warren, Joyner, Judkins, Kenan, Luke, Manly, Marler, McAden, McIntosh, Moore of Martin, Newsom, Page, Rosebro, Russell, Smith of Columbus, Thigpen, Webb, Whitley, Wilson and Yellowley—44.

Those who voted in the negative are Messrs. Ashworth, Blair, Burton, Caldwell, Dalby, Everettt, Furr, Gaines, Harrington, Henry, Hodnett, Holderby, Holmes, Horton, Houston, Jenkins of Granville, Jones, Kinney, Leigh of Tyrell, Lyon, McDonald, McGuire, Melson, Murrill, Niven, Nicks, Palmer, Potter, Smith of Guilford, Smith of Hertford, Scoggin, Teague, Trull and Waugh—34.

A bill to extend the terms of office of certain county officers, and a resolution in favor of William Thompson, passed their several readings under a suspension of the rules.

The House then took a recess until 4 o'clock P. M.

(From the National Intelligencer.)

The Freedmen's Bureau---Important Testimony.

The following is an extract from a letter from Major Henry C. Lawrence, A. Q. M., and agent of the Freedmen's Bureau at Fayetteville, North Carolina. The letter was addressed to a friend at present sojourning in this city.

Major Lawrence is a gentleman of fine intellectual endowments and attainments.

He belonged to the original Free Soil party, united with the Republican party at its formation, and has ever since been and still is an active and influential member of that party. He has had much experience in the Freedmen's Bureau, and many opportunities of observing the state of affairs in the South as regards both whites and blacks, and of forming correct opinions as to the best policy to be pursued. He expresses his views with great frankness and force:

FAYETTEVILLE, N. C., Feb. 14, 1866.

"I confess I am tired out and half worn out with the annoyances of my position, and need rest; and so far from having any sympathy with the views that seem to prevail in Congress, that I am unwilling to be even an humble instrument in aiding to carry them out. Whilst there was, and could be, no law but military law, or rather authority, the Bureau was a necessity to some extent. But to continue it after the States shall have given the blacks their civil rights, seems to be the very reverse of sound policy, considered simply with reference to that. It will engender hatred towards the blacks on the part of the whites, as a favored class to whom extra legal protection is given by the Federal government—hatred towards the government itself, which, by this system, pronounces the people regardless of justice, and brands courts and bar and juries, in advance, as ready perjurers,—It substitutes for men learned in the law, and soon to administer it—for trial by jury right of appeal—the decision of men who, in many cases, if not most, will know nothing of law; who will often be prejudiced, and some, judging from the past, will be corrupt. It will incite in the blacks, to some extent, a sense of independence of the local laws; sanction their distrust of them, the courts and people, and certainly cannot tend to educate them in the duties of citizens. Instead of allaying, it will beget jealousy and ill-will between the races to a greater degree than now exists, and finally produce the very evils it is intended to guard against. And how such a system can be exercised except as a temporary military necessity in a conquered country I cannot conceive. It is liable to all our old objections to the "fugitive slave law," and, unlike that, will be an ever-present, ever-acting evil, and its provisions are very incomplete for the end proposed, unless it is assumed that military authority is to remain paramount. For instance, I can fine a man $50, and imprison him thirty days; but in case of murder of a black, the district or department military commander must order trial by court-martial. Upon conviction the case may, of course, go to the Secretary of War for review. Such a trial is in progress now at Raleigh. If this system is to be retained after the States shall be reconstructed—whatever that may be—and if this is republicanism or self-government, I shall despair of ever being able to comprehend the first principles of political science. But if a State should establish such a judicial system, I think the Federal government might well be called upon to enforce its guaranty of republican government to the people of that State. I think it would be a less outrage upon the principles of self-government and upon the Constitution to treat the South as conquered territory, and govern it by our territorial system, than to do what is prepared to be done; and in that case Mr. Sumner might secure juries composed equally of white and black men. I felt ashamed for myself as an American, and for my Government, when, a few days ago, Judge Buxton, of the Supreme Court of this State, called at my office to inquire as to the extent of the jurisdiction he would be permitted to exercise in a term he was about to hold."

Scale of Depreciation.

The following bill passed during the presen session:

A bill to be entitled An Act to establish a Scale of Depreciation of Confederate Currency.

Whereas, By an ordinance of the Convention, entitled "An ordinance declaring what laws and ordinances are in force, and for other purposes," ratified on the 18th day of October, A. D. 1865, it is made the duty of the General Assembly to provide a scale of depreciation of the Confederate currency from the time of its first issue to the end of the war; and it is further therein declared that "all executory contracts, solvable in money, whether under seal or not, made after the depreciation of said currency before the 1st day of May, 1865, and yet unfilled, (except official bonds and penal bonds payable to the State,) shall be deemed to have been made with the understanding that they were solvable in money of the said currency," subject nevertheless to evidence of a different intent of the parties to the contract; therefore,

Be it enacted by the General Assembly of the State of North Carolina, and it is hereby enacted by the authority of the same, That the following scale of depreciation be and the same is hereby adopted and established as the measure of value of one gold dollar in Confederate currency, for each month, and the fractional parts of the month of December, 1864, from the 1st day of November 1861, to the 1st day of May, 1865, to wit:

Scale of depreciation of Confederate Currency, the gold dollars being the unit and measur e of value, from Nov. 1st 1861, to May 1, 1865.

IMPORTANT LETTER FROM DANIEL PERKINSON!

NEW YORK, March 3d, 1866.

MR. JOHN H. LAHMEYER:

Friend and Partner—It is with feelings of the profoundest gratitude that I write you these lines. I wish for you to state to our Virginia and North Carolina friends that I have bought the

LARGEST STOCK OF GOODS

I have ever had, and that we can sell them, both retail and wholesale, to give entire satisfaction.

Our stock will be complete, and if they wish to get bargains they must not fail to call on PERKINSON & LAHMEYER, No. 9 Bank street, Petersburg.

I have made my purchases with an eye expressly to County Merchants and Saddlers.

I have also made arrangements for us to be receiving every description of CARRIAGES and BUGGIES the trade may demand. Our motto must be, "Quick sales and small profits."

Very respectfully, yours, &c.,

DANIEL PERKINSON.

The above was written to me by Mr. Perkinson while in New York, and deeming it a good advertisement I concluded to have it published.

The Laws.

The Stay Laws and others, in which the people are deeply interested, will be published in this paper as soon as they can be obtained from the Secretary of State.

From the National Intelligencer.

The people have not risen too soon. Let them understand that a desperate combination of powerful partisans, who, with extraordinary audacity, dominate over a majority of both Houses of Congress, and against whose machinations for the overthrow of civil liberty we have so earnestly warned the sovereign people, have at length, with the heedless desperation of discomfited tyranny, framed an open project for the formal dismemberment of the Union.

The report of the majority of the Joint Committee of Reconstruction, which will be seen in our Congressional columns, concludes with a joint resolution, in which the people of a State of the Union are declared "to be in a condition to exercise the functions of a State within this Union," and are yet, by the self same resolution, excluded from that Union!

This resolution has not yet been acted on by either House. It is to be called up "at an early day." Is it to pass both Houses? This question appears to us to be fraught with consequences as momentous as have ever befallen the American people. If it passes, doubtless it will be speedily for those who support it well know with what indignant disapprobation all Union men in the country would rebuke it after full consideration.

Let us hastily consider it. 1. It declares, as a fact, that the people of Tennessee are "in a condition to exercise the functions of a State within this Union." That is so of Vermont or of Ohio. Is either of these States in the Union by virtue of anything but (1) the fact that their people are "in a condition to exercise the functions of a State," and (2) the law, that the statute in each case admitting the State into the Union is still, and has ever since its passage been in full force and virtue? How is it possible to distinguish between Tennessee and either of these States? If they are alike in the conditions and in the principle—in the fact and in the law—by what monstrous innovation of moral, social, personal, or adventitious considerations are they to be arbitrarily and violently discriminated?

2. But by this resolution the National Legislature would declare that the people of a State duly admitted may be in a condition to exercise the functions of a State within this Union, but "can only exercise the same by the consent of the law-making power of the United States."

Now, the people of a State are either in or out of "a condition to exercise the functions of a State." If they are out of that condition, we make the very ready concession that they have no right to exercise them. Now, since they could get out of such a condition, the question is, how? By secession? That is unconstitutional. By expulsion? That is the complement of secession. By revolution? That must first be successful. Is there any other way?—Yes, we think, but, from the nature of it, transiently and practically not systematically and theoretically, viz: By, and only during the actual continuance of a state of prevalent and hostile contumacy against the laws of the Union. But this is only a practical hindrance, and from its nature has no constructive or hypothetical force, but hinders the exercise of the functions of a State while it exists, because it exists, and no longer than it exists. The Constitution imposes on the Executive, exclusively, the judgment of the existence of such a hindrance, and after empowering him to remove it, leaves him to determine authoritatively, when it has ended. When he decides that this practical obstruction has been obviated, it is obviated, and the condition which fits the people to exercise the functions of a State supervenes, in point of fact, necessarily. Thus much this very resolution expressly concedes. On what theory, therefore, does it go on to declare the necessity of legislative consent to the exercise of the functions of a State, when that State is in a condition to exercise them?

It cannot be on the theory of State expulsion, nor of secession. It must, therefore, be on the theory of revolution. But a revolution that is unsuccessful is a nullity. If it has actually changed the status of the rebelling people in their political relations, even contrary to their wishes, it was a sucessful revolution. Few revolutions in history, however successful, ever established the particular object for which they had been undertaken. It is sufficient, in all polity, that a political alteration of constitutional rights or obligations should have grown out of a revolution, to give it the character of a successful one, and class it with those which are said never to go backwards.

Thus, the only circumstance by which Vermont and Tennessee have ever been distinguished, were the transitory, and now, even by the words of this resolution, disconnected hindrances to the Executive. It is not pretended that anything else ever existed to make the case different between these States. Where, then, does this extraordinary resolution carry us? We answer, either to this preposterous theory that the revolution in Tennessee (and a fortiori in all the South,) was successful or that the people of Vermont have no right to exercise the functions of a State within this Union without the consent of the law making power of the United States!

Are we, as Gov. Bullock, of Massachusetts, declared a few days ago, in the midst of a revolution? Can the people "see the evening sky, that it is red, and say it will rain on the morrow," and yet not "discern the signs of the times?"

But if more were needed to show that this resolution is to be formally projected into the deliberations of Congress as the cunning frame of a revolutionary attempt on the constitutional sovereignty of the States of the Union, the great instrumentality of the sovereignty of the people, and the only protection of liberty, it would be found in the conditions upon which it proposes to "admit" the State of Tennessee upon an "equal footing" with the other States of the Union. It is competent for the United States and particular States to bind each other by stipulation. But it must be perfectly obvious to any person who has ever reflected upon the organic system of the Republic, how immediately a lawyer perceives the impossibility of a State binding itself in derogation of its own political power, or of the United States to acquire by compact with a particular State any accession to its own political powers. The smallest inequality between States we all see, is at once a disturbance of the balance, without which the Constitution has no horizon and the law no principle. If such a doctrine could prevail the United States might constitutionally have compromised with South Carolina in 1832 or 1860 by relinquishing as to that State a part of the Federal sovereignty. If either contracting party can give, either can take. If Tennessee really should covenant with Congress to abnegate her power of legislation—her right to repeal certain statutes, for example—her agents could not bind her people, and the moment her admission was announced, the attempt to enforce the stipulations by the Federal power against that people, would convert the theory of the Federal Government to that of a simple single State, and if the matter was carried out, the fact would constitute a complete and successful revolution of the Republic.

Poeple of the Union! These are but beginnings. The revolutionary cabel renounce and abjure the doctrine of the "sovereignty of the people, the rights of the States, and a light and simple government"—the golden epitome of Jefferson. The sworn preserver, protector, and defender of the Constitution is undismayed.—He relies upon you. Shall he be sustained?

Gold and Copper in Western North Carolina.

The British Isles, upon their surface, exhibit few dislocations of strata, such as indicate great igneous and volcanic action in the past ages of the world—and perhaps surface indications of mineral treasures below were not very flattering; but the energy of miners has brought to light their hidden wealth, and the development of their mines has made Great Britain one of the most powerful nations on the globe.

We know but little of the mineral wealth that has been lying undisturbed for ages beneath the surface of the States of Virginia and North Carolina. It it were laid bare to the human eye, in all its richness and variety, it might astonish the most visionary and enthusiastic mind.—We don't profess to know what lies hid in this terra incognita. But we think that two States that exhibit such rich and encouraging indications on the surface, should be explored in the interior. If curiosity stimulates vast expenditures upon expeditions to explore the volcanic desolations of Iceland, or the ice-bound regions of the North Pole, it would seem that the combined motives of interest and curiosity should prompt us to explore a country, lying under our feet, whose superificial indications give such rich premise of buried treasures.

The only certain test of mining districts are actual experiments—explorations and trials of each particular mine. But, if general geological deductions are of much value, the gold regions of the mountainous districts of North Carolina—of Burke and McDowell counties—will be found the richest in working veins of gold of any in that State. The mines in Burke and McDowell are found near the foot of the Blue Ridge, and east of the same. Nearly all of them have been worked as surface or placer mines—sometimes called deposit mines. The gold is obtained by washing the surface of the flat lands on running streams, and the hill-sides bordering on them to their summits, to the depth of eight or ten feet. The well known Brindletown mine, not far from Morgantown, has been worked for many years in this way—that is, as a deposit mine.

The general theory of these deposit mines is that the gold found in them has been discovered from gold veins, generally found in quartz rock, and either thrown out by igneous or volcanic action, or washed out by attrition of running water, and sometimes removed at a considerable distance from their first localities. It is highly probable, therefore, when there are many rich surface mines in any locality, that rich veins of imbedded ore may be found hard by; and this probability is increased when the deposits of gold are very near a mountain ridge, constituting an effectual bar to washing from a more distant locality. Vein mines have been discovered in Burke and McDowell, imbedded in quartz in the locality of these surface mines. The working of ore has recently commenced.—The working of surface mines requires no investment of capital, and the want of capital has heretofore prevented the working of veins—which requires to be done with machinery.

The copper regions extend, it is said, all along between the Blue Ridge and the Alleghany, occupying a breadth of some forty miles—commencing in Macon county, North Carolina, and passing through Jackson, Haywood, Buncombe, Yancey and Ashe, and thence to Carroll and Floyd counties, Virginia.

The surface indications along this region, when understood, are very unerring as to the existence of copper below. Many shafts have been sunk, in different localities, and copper reached. But the owners await capital for further development. The only effort at systematic mining is by the Callowhee Company, in Jackson county. The copper pyrites yield thirty-four per cent., which is considered a very high percentage by experienced miners.—Richmond Whig.

[Special Dispatch to the Baltimore Sun.]

The Stevens Yoke Beginning to Chafe---A Voice from the Business Centres of the North---Disaffection Among Radicals---The Tennessee Resolutions, &c.

WASHINGTON, March 7, 1866.—I am enabled to state with great certainty that there is an element in the House which is considerable in numbers, that is exceedingly restive under the yoke of the tyrant Stevens. The remarks of Mr. Blaine, of Maine, on the West Point Academy bill are a sign from Northern business centres. Complaints of the action of Congress reach members in loud and deep tones.

Many feel that the groundwork and the framework of the platform of the Stevens cabal are fatally wrong. A considerable portion of the Republicans in Maine are hostile to it. It is understood that Mr. Conkling, of New York, is already sick of his party in ringing in the radical platform upon the body of the resolution for admission of representatives from Tennessee. It will be opposed by some Republicans.

Some think the delusive and cheating resolution of the reconstruction committee concerning Tennessee will not pass because it contains no provision for negro suffrage. For that reason Radicals may not vote for it; and the Democrats and Conservatives certainly will not, since that it contains all the radical ideas to which they are opposed. For the same reason the President would veto it.

[From the Philadelphia Age, March 7th.]

THE RELEASE OF ADMIRAL SEMMES.

Scarcely any act of the President reflects more credit upon his prudence and sagacity, than his release, from arrest, of Semmes, the late commander of the Alabama. Under the surrender of Johnston's army he was admitted to parole, and no matter whether that was right or wrong, until he violates it, the Government cannot honorably, nor justly, molest him. His arrest and imprisonment were cruel outrages, and we rejoice that Andrew Johnson has had the courage to set this matter right, in spite of the clamor which has been raised upon the subject.

The Belgian troops had refused to fight under the Imperial General Mendez, who shot Ortega, not caring if Belgian prisoners be shot in retaliation. Bazaine wanted to have every fifth man of the offenders shot, but the Empress interfered in their behalf. The Belgians say they are willing to go home in disgrace, but won't fight under Mendez.

Bazaine is said to have intimated that he thought there must be a war with the United States.

A heavy detachment of troops had been sent to Queretero and San Luis Potosi.

Dr. Stiles Kennedy.

For some time the editor of the Salisbury Banner, has been appointed Agent of the Venezuela Land Company, for western and middle North Carolina.

Venezuela is one of the most favored counties in climate, soil and production on earth.—Carraccas, the capitol city, is situated on the table lands, about thirty miles from the sea, and commands one of the sublimest and most picturesque views we ever beheld. The country above it, is said to produce coffee equalled to the far-famed Mocha—indeed, all that is sold in the markets of the United States under that favorite name, is produced in Venezuela and Costa Rica. The climate on this belt is equable of a moderate temperature, embracing the best points of the tropic and temperate zones.—We have eaten peaches and pears grown there, which were of good quality, at the same time you could gather pine apples and bananas.—From this elevated ridge you see the sea on the one side and the Andes Chain on the other.—Every day you can get a supply of ice brought down the mountain on the back of donkeys.—We never saw a country where we thought a man could live so easily and get rich so fast.—Were it not for the revolutions which disturb this otherwise favored land, it would be the choicest spot on the green earth.—Charlotte Times.

Brigadier General Fullerton, late of the Freedmen's Bureau, has been appointed private Secretary to the President.

The Valley Virginian (Staunton) of Wednesday says: Hon. A. H. H. Stuart returned from Washington on Friday. He was sent for consultation, and reports favorably in regard to the situation of affairs.

A Baynes, a citizen of Caswell county, North Carolina, tried by a military commission for killing a freedman, has been sentenced to ten years imprisonment.

FRED. DOUGLASS IN THE LADIES' GALLERY.—The negro orator Fred. Douglas occupied a prominent seat in the ladies' gallery Wednesday during the delivery of Mr. Sumner's speech. Just in front of Fred. sat three dames who industriously plied their needles, and as assiduously listened while Mr. Sumner read his lengthy effort.

Attorney-General Speed is now engaged in making up a report for transmission to Congress, giving a list of all persons pardoned by the President who come under the $20,000 class.

Gen. Lee is said to have stated in his evidence beforce the Reconstruction Committee that, in his opinion, the people of Virginia are disposed to pay the rebel debt.

1866. SPRING TRADE. 1866.

IN OPENING THE

SPRING TRADE,

I would return my most grateful thanks to the citizens of Petersburg and the surrounding country for the very liberal patronage extended the past season, and hope to merit its further continuance by holding out still further inducements.

My present facilities are beyond doubt unequalled, and no effort will be spared to place before our patrons Goods that the present market value will admit of, and in many instances much below, as we are constantly represented at the large auction sales, where goods are frequently sold much less than cost of importation. These, with

Many Other Available Facilities,

I pledge myself to use to the best interest of our customers.

The stock is now much larger and better assorted than at any time previous, having added a complete assortment of

HOUSE-FURNISHING GOODS,

Among them the most elegant

Satin Damask,
Lace and Muslin Curtains,
Wine Cloths,
Piano and Table Covers,
Stair Linen,
Linen Druggets,
Table Linen,
Napkins, Doilies,
Towels, Crash.

—ALSO—

WHITE GOODS,

Of which I have always kept a good stock, is now replete with everything the market affords. Besides, a very handsome stock of

Needlework,
Edgings, Insertings,
Laces and Embroideries.

THE STOCK OF

LADIES' DRESS GOODS,

Must be seen to be appreciated. I therefore invite all to an inspection, and in catering so well for the ladies, I would assure the gentlemen they have not been forgotten. The assortment of

Cloths,
Cassimeres,
—AND—
Furnishing Goods Generally,

Is complete, and it is hoped those in want of goods of this class will not fail to give us a call.

To the Merchants of Virginia and North Carolina,

who have so liberally patronized us the past season, I return my most grateful thanks, and solicit an early call, assuring them they will find our goods at as low prices as any house North or South.

THOMAS SMITH,
33 Sycamore Street,
Corner of Bank,
Petersburg, Va.

I have secured the Agency for the States of Virginia and North Carolina, for the sale of the

FLORENCE SEWING MACHINE.

It is undoubtedly the best Family Sewing Machine in existence.

Read the following recommendations:

1st.

Its Simplicity and Great Range of Work.

2nd.

Its making four different Stitches, viz: Lock, Knot, Double Lock, Double Knot.

3rd.

The Reverse Feed Motion, operated by simply turning a thumb screw, enabling the operator to run the work to the right or to the left, and convenience of self-fastening the ends of seams.

4th.

The Perfect Finish and substantial manner in which the machine is made.

5th.

The Rapidity of its Working, and the quality of the work done.

6th.

Its Self-Adjusting Tension.

It makes the Celebrated Elastic Stitch.

BUY

LOOK BEFORE YOU BUY!

IT MAKES

NO NOISE

WHILE RUNNING

☞ One thing is settled beyond a doubt: persons wanting Sewing Machines, no longer hesitate which to buy. The FLORENCE leads the world. It needs only to be seen to be appreciated.

PROSPECTUS.

THE publication of the
The North Carolina Presbyterian
will be resumed in Fayetteville, on Wednesday, the 2nd of January next.

Confidently relying on the hearty support which we have heretofore received, we shall endeavor to render the paper more attractive, both in appearance and matter, than it has ever been, sparing neither pains or expense in the accomplishment of this purpose.

With the passing away of old things, a new spirit of activity, energy and enterprise, has been infused into every department of secular thought and business. Why should not the Church, also, partake of the progressive advancement? Why should she, of all the agencies brought to bear with such tremendous force upon the civilization of the present time, be inefficient, laggard and almost hopeless in the working out of her own destiny?

To arouse the church to the importance and necessity of work; of unceasing, restless, tireless energy in the service of her Master and Head; this shall be our first and chiefest aim. In this we need assistance. We are not, alone, sufficient for these things. Our brethren must help us in every way; by contributions from their own stores of thought and study; by zealous co-operation in a common cause, for the benefit of all; by extending our circulat on throughout all our borders, and thus giving us the means and the opportunity of performing well the work to which we have consecrated all that we have, and all we hope for on earth,

RALEIGH, 1866.

LIFE INSURANCE NOTICE.

THE old and well established

Ætna Company, of Hartford,

Offers superior inducements to all who wish to provide for family or friends.

All losses are promptly paid. No case of litigation has ever occurred with this Company. With assets of $3,300,000, it offers to receive one half of the premium in a note and half in cash, and, after the second year, to credit each customer with the dividends of the Company, which are now 50 per cent. With a small outlay, $500, or $10,000, or $20,000, may be secured to the family after their earthly providers are taken away. What father or husband would not feel thankful on his dying couch, that he had availed himself of every proper means to place those nearest and dearest to him, also of the perchings of want, and a life of dependence upon friends or charity? 8 819 policies have been issued from the office ending Jan. 15 1866. The total income for the year 1865 was $1,683,339 57; total disbursements $527 805 24, leaving a balance to surplus fund of $1,155 244 33.

In Raleigh a large number have liberally responded and promptly acted in this matter; yet many delay, and may wait until it is too late. A man in this city lately left his place of business for his evening meal, well and healthy, but never reached that home except as he was carried there to die. Had that man taken the advice of the Agent, he might have left $5000 to minister to the necessities of a sorrowing family. Delays are dangerous, procrastination destructive. But one says, "If I only had confidence in the Company that it would pay, I would insure." Well, it never has failed to pay, and to-day is more responsible than ever before. It is patronized by some of the most sagacious minds in the land—men competent to detect and expose any deception if it existed.

In its action, it is as quick as Peruvian Guano, while it does not leave the land in an exhausted state, but on the other hand permanently improves it. This has been fully proven by years of trial.

Commission Business,

In this Town, West side Craven Street, on old County Wharf.

To the sale of Cotton, Naval Stores, Tobacco, Lumber, Staves, Shingles, Corn, and all kinds of Produce and Merchandise, and also to the sale and purchase of Real Estate and State and other Stocks, we will give our personal attention.

We are Agents for Murry's North Carolina Semi Weekly Line of Steamships, between Newbern and New York, and for Sailing Vessels for Baltimore, Philadelphia, and other ports in the United States and for different ports in the West Indies. Thus it will be seen that we are furnished by our own vessels with the amplest facilities for the speedy transportation of Freight and Passengers. But in addition to these, there is a weekly line of Ocean Steamships on the same route, and a tri-weekly line of Steamers by inland route through Albemarle and Chesapeake Canal to Norfolk, Baltimore, Philadelphia and New York; hence Merchants and Shippers entrusting the transportation of their freight to us, can rely with confidence on its speedy transit.

☞ We will make liberal advances on consignments.

All letters addressed to us on the subject of freight, or on any other business, will be promptly answered

PROSPECTUS

OLD NORTH STATE.

"The Old North State Forever."

THE undersigned will commence the publication of a Daily and Weekly Newspaper, bearing the above title, in the city of Salisbury about the 10th of March next.

The Old North State will be, under our control, a firm and decided Union paper. But while it will be firm and decided in its support of the Union, and of all just and necessary measures tending to its complete restoration, it will yet be liberal and conservative. It will oppose radicalism from whatever quarter it may come. Confiding in the loyal intentions of the great body of the people of North Carolina, it will endeavor to soothe the asperities of the past by promoting among them a spirit of reconciliation and harmony.

Rejecting the exploded dogma of paramount State sovereignty, it will cheerfully support the National government in the exercise of every power necessary to the maintenance of its rightful authority, while it will ever contend against any encroachments upon the reserved rights of the States.

It will discuss all the various political issues of the day, but in doing this it will seek to avoid everything like partizan bitterness or personal vituperation. It will also strive to avoid that detestable practice, so common among politicians, of pandering to the passions and appealing to the prejudices of the multitude in order to accomplish partizan ends. It will endeavor to enlighten and direct aright public sentiment, by disseminating correct information, and by arguments addressed to the understanding—in short, it will endeavor to erect a high standard of political morality.

Its columns will be open for Political, Moral, Literary and Agricultural articles especially, and to the advertising public.

The Old North State will be printed on new type on the following

THE LOYALIST.

THE undersigned propose to publish in Louisburg, North Carolina, a newspaper under the above denomination, The LOYALIST, as its name imports, will yield a firm, uniform, and fearless support to the Constitution of the United States, and all laws enacted in pursuance of that great instrument. To the decisions of the Supreme Court of the nation, in such questions as originate in the interpretation or application of the principles involved in our federal Jurisprudence or policy, the Loyalist will accord its unqualified acquiescence, as to the will of the American people, duly expressed through the only legitimate, determinate and sufficient medium. Its general politics will be those so long and so thoroughly taught by the patriotism, the eloquence, and the wisdom of Clay, and his departed compeers, and so fearfully vindicated by the present melancholy and helpless condition of the communities so recently arrayed in arms against the integrity and harmony of our national union.

The Loyalist would make the institutions and independence the material and moral dignity of the nation, as enduring and as brilliant as the stars whose images adorn the field and the folds of its flag. The Loyalist will also dedicate its energies and exert its abilities to ascertain and cherish the interests, as well as to develope the immense resources of North Carolina. To the cause of education, the general diffusion of knowledge, the elevation of the masses, and the religious culture of all within its influence, it will be a consistent and inflexible friend. Its editorial department will be conducted by gentlemen whose names will be announced in due time.

The LOYALIST will be issued weekly, carefully printed, of the size of the Raleigh "Daily Sentinel," and furnished to patrons at $3,00 per annum, payable on delivery of the first number. Subscriptions and communications respectfully solicited.
